

Bribery and Anti-Corruption Code

We are helping governments transform to digitalised working environments, thereby assisting them to deliver value to their citizens. As citizens' trust is the very foundation of effective governmental institutions, it is essential that we help assist these institutions to build and honour this trust. Therefore, it is of paramount importance that we maintain high standards of integrity throughout our business.

Notwithstanding that Denmark consistently ranks at the very top of the Corruption Perceptions Index produced Transparency International, it is of vital importance that there is no underestimation of the threat we face and consequent damage to our reputation and value

As we expand our activities to new markets, we are providing specific education and training to our staff operating in those higher risk areas, in particular the different the contexts and cultures they will experience, the areas of vulnerability and the need to be aware and continuously take measures to ensure our integrity.

Policies

We will not be complicit in either direct or indirect corruption.

We will not be involved in bribery or any other forms of activities that will unfairly benefit us or any other parties involved.

We do not perform activities that undermine market competition.
